PERSONAL DESCRIPTION

Why am I so valuable?

Telecommunication Engineering graduate specialized in Communication Systems, with strong interest in both Deep Learning and Communication Technologies. I enjoy exploring emerging technologies and trends that drive innovation.

Outside of my professional life, I dedicate my time to sports and sociocultural activities, which help me maintain a healthy balance between personal and professional growth. I am open to working in multicultural environments, where I can leverage my interpersonal skills to foster collaboration and effective communication within teams.

My approach is focused on continuous improvement, problem-solving, and finding innovative solutions, always prioritizing quality and commitment to team objectives.
